A FAIR TO TRANSFER BORDERS

The Fira i Festes is a good reflection of the dynamism that Gandia is experiencing. Once again, thousands of people will walk through the streets, browse the stalls and greet the people they meet in the crowd. By doing this, they will be projecting deep-rooted traditions into the future, links that we maintain with enormous pride as a city.

Gandia, as the capital of the Central Valencian Regions and as a commercial, tourist and service reference point for a wide area that goes beyond the regional boundaries, has been a city of opportunities for centuries. Today it continues to be an emblematic reference point, even more so during the days of the Fira.

The Fair is a space for reunions and coexistence. But it is also a space for claiming the feeling of belonging to the collective project that is Gandia. A festival of proximity and very participatory where people are the protagonists of the street; a Fair that stimulates the local economy, which this year will have the honour of hosting the relics of San Francisco de Borja for the second time in history.

The new model of the Fira – with more days of festivities so that people have more activities and to promote hospitality, commerce and tourism – has had the desired effects with massive participation. Thus, for the third consecutive year, we will also be programming activities the previous weekend. Let us not forget that the investment that the City Council makes in Fira i Festes reverts to many sectors.

On September 27, the Tio de la Porra will take the baton of command to take power of the city, empty the schools and announce that the big days of Fira i Festes are beginning. When the drums vibrate with all their strength, music and joy will mix. This will mean that Gandia is already celebrating, that we are already at Fira.

We are sure that this tradition, which is passed down from generation to generation, will once again transcend borders. Let us live together. Let us live the city. Let us be, once again, pride and hope. A welcoming and reference capital. Let us celebrate that we are united by the Gandia project, that we do and that we long for together.

Happy Fair and Happy Holidays.

Jose Manuel Prieto
Mayor of Gandia

THE FAIR, A SPACE TO SHARE

I don't think it's necessary to explain in this article what the Fira i Festes de Gandia is. You know it very well because, to a greater or lesser extent, all citizens are an active part of the festival programme. Because, if not, what is the Fira without your presence?

Why does it surprise people who come from outside so much that the streets and squares are packed at all hours? Without a doubt, because you are the most important part of the festival. And because, quite simply, the Fira is yours.

Things are always happening in the streets of Gandia. I have heard this phrase many times during my time in public administration. Both the Department of Culture and the Department of Tourism are trying to make this "things are always happening in Gandia" an increasingly visible goal for anyone, whether they are from home or abroad.

And the Fira i Festes is nothing more than a collection of "things" that invite you to make it stimulating to be able to go out on the street. Endearing things, discreet in some cases, spectacular in others, innovative, attractive to the senses, delicate..., but always intensely shared.

This year we have made an effort, a test, to promote our Fair during the summer. The acceptance has been very positive. I am convinced that the results will be very satisfactory and that we will be able to see that all these "things" that will happen during the days of the festivities will be saved on the hard drive of your memory, in a folder called "Good things about Gandia".

Reading this text, you will have noticed that I have not talked too much about the Fira programme. You have it all in this book, a book in which you will see that in Gandia "things always happen".

THE POSTER

FROM THE FAIR I FESTIVES OF GANDIA 2024

The author of the poster, Margarida Riggio Albors, went to Gandia in 1992 and studied Fine Arts at the Miguel Hernández d'Elx University, deciding to focus her artistic career on drawing, painting and painting. il·lustració.

Currently, he works as a freelancer in charge of poster design, book illustrations, murals, usually portraits and personalized illustrations, both for public and private entities and for individuals.

Among his works, the congratulations from Nadal that the City Council will offer in 2021 stand out; the posters of the seventh and eighth edition of Pride in Gandia or the cover and interior illustrations of the magazine Marxuquera in the town of Mondúver.

Furthermore, in 2021, the I Premi Il·lustració will be held Tribute to the Paraula of the CEIC Alfons el Vell, thanks to whom the pleasure of illustrating the book in homage to Ignasi Mora goes to La roda dels somnis.

Regarding the contingut, va fer la il·lustració inspiration in the records of which she was most impressed and liked how small she was, it is to say, «eixa sensació of having a personatge like Uncle de la Porra fent-ne of the dreams for the entire city, and carrying the joy and the desire to begin the festival, both to xiquets and xiquetes as to majors.

"I always fix it very much with the character transmitting energy to the six balls choreographed and the movements of the baton that are so characteristic, and that is what I wanted to capture through the poster."

The author of the poster, Margarida Riggio Albors, was born in Gandia in 1992 and studied Fine Arts at the Miguel Hernández University in Elche, where she decided to focus her artistic career on drawing, painting and illustration.

Currently, he works as a freelance doing commissions for poster design, illustrated books,

His works include the Christmas greetings issued by the City Council in 2021; the posters for the seventh and eighth editions of Pride in Gandia; and the cover and interior illustrations for the magazine Marxuquera al peu del Mondúver.

Furthermore, in 2021, he won the First Illustration Prize Tribute to Paraula from the CEIC Alfons el Vell, thanks to which he had the pleasure of illustrating the book in tribute to Ignasi Mora La roda dels somnis.

As for the content, she drew inspiration from the memories that struck her the most and that she liked the most when she was little, that is, "that feeling of having a character like Tio de la Porra doing his thing all over the city, and bringing joy and the desire to start the party, both to children and adults." "I always paid a lot of attention to how the character transmitted that energy with his choreographed dances and the characteristic movements of the porra, and that is what I wanted to capture through the poster."
